

ViaTalk Offering a Free Year of VoIP Service This Holiday

Clifton Park, NY (December 12, 2006) -- ViaTalk, LLC, a rapidly growing VoIP company based in New York's Tech Valley, is putting a little something extra under the Christmas Tree this year. As part of a special holiday promotion ViaTalk customers can get a free year of telephone service when they pay for the first year of service in advance.

"It seems too good to be true, but as a thank you to our customers this holiday season we are giving away two years of our award winning service for the price of one," said Brendan Brader, CEO. "We want to give the general public the opportunity to find out what ViaTalk customers across the country already know, we are the leaders in providing high quality service at the most competitive price in the industry."

ViaTalk is an industry leader, that stands out for its award-winning customer service team and rates that are among the most competitive in VoIP telephony.

"This is sure to be one of the best bargains this holiday season," added Brader. Better phone service, unlimited long distance to make all your holiday calls and at a fraction of the cost of what you're paying now."
